THE PEOPLES' COLUMN

In reply to the article appearing in this column about railroads and motor competition, I want to state that I too believe that both methods of transportation should be permitted to continue to exist but that they should be treated fairly, justly and impartially and both subject to the same requirements. I believe that, since the state has jurisdiction over the railroads, in like manner the state should have control of the motor lines, both as to passenger and freight transportation, and that it is unfair to the railroads in general under existing conditions. In addition to the regular motor vehicle license tax, there should be a special tax on motor bus, jitney or freight lines sufficiently high to warrant keener competition between the two modes of transportation. This extra tax would help to keep up the roads that are used by the motor lines and it is certainly unfair to compel the railroads to pay a heavy tax for the building of good roads and their maintenance and for the use of the lines which run opposition to the rail lines. Let's put both means of transportation on an equal basis and let both continue to serve the needs of the public.

NATION OBSERVES ARMISTICE DAY ANNIVERSARY

THREE DOZEN MORE SUBPOENAS IN THE MITCHELL CASE

NATI'NAL COMMANDER AMERICAN LEGION SENDS OUT A MESSAGE

America Should Bend Efforts Toward World Peace, Thereby Keeping Faith With Her World War Dead—Nation Should Join Permanent Court of International Justice.

(By Associated Press)

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 11.—America should keep faith with its war dead and bend its effort to perpetuation of world peace, was the Armistice Day message of John McQuigg, National Commander of the American Legion. The American Legion has pledged itself to the support of a three-fold peace program, the message read. They are the immediate adherence by the United States to a permanent court of international justice, the present enactment into law of principle of universal draft for commandeering men, money and materials, thus putting America on an equal basis in sacrifice, and the maintenance of adequate forces for internal and external defense in keeping with our dignity as a world power.

DELAY FATAL CASES CANCER DOCTOR SAYS

CANCER SPECIALIST FROM JOHN HOPKINS UNIVERSITY IN TALK

Heart Disease Too

CANCER AND HEART TROUBLE ARE TWO DISEASES MUCH ON THE INCREASE

(By Associated Press).

DALLAS, Nov. 11.—Delay is a fatal enemy to the race in cancer cases, Doctor Joseph Bloodgood, cancer specialist of John Hopkins University of Baltimore, told the doctors attending the Southern Medical Association convention here today. This section is considered one of the most important of the whole convention as cancer and heart disease are said to be the only two diseases now on the increase.

WITNESS STATES AIR FORCE IS IMPROPERLY HANDLED

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Thirty-six new subpoenas were issued today for persons to testify in the Colonel William Mitchell court martial case. The first witness questioned today was Major Gorald Brant, Air Service officer, now attached to the supply and construction branch of the general staff said he was sent to Hawaii during the recent joint Army and Navy maneuvers, and was confident that no attacking forces could have landed in the air force had not been handled in a round-about way.

REFEREE IN GOULD CASE IN DECISION

O'GORMAN HOLDS OPINION THAT LATE GEORGE JAY GOULD MISMANAGED

Estate Mishandled

DECISION RESULTS FROM LITIGATION BROUGHT BY HEIRS OF ESTATE

(By Associated Press).

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—James O'Gorman, referee in the Gould accounting case, today handed down an opinion holding that the late George Jay Gould had mismanaged the $82,000,000 estate of his father, Jay Gould, railroad builder and financier. O'Gorman's decision was in connection with litigation between the Gould heirs which has lasted since criticism has been directed mainly at George Jay Gould's railroad investments.

PRESBYTERIANS STUDYING THE EPISTLE OF JAMES

The regular prayer meeting of the First Presbyterian church will be held this evening at 7:30 in the Sunday School Annex. The epistle of James is being studied and recent Wednesday evenings, in spite of very inclement weather, have brought out the usual interested group of hearers. The subject is "The Endurance of Temptation,' and will be a practical expository study of James 1:12-18. This epistle is one of the most vigorous and gripping books of the New Testament, and thoroughly fits itself into modern times. All those interested are urged to make a special effort to attend.

PRESIDENT LAYS WREATH UPON GRAVE OF UNKNOWN SOLDIER

Governmental Machinery Halted for Brief Space of Time at Eleven O'clock and Period Given Up To Tribute to America's World War Dead—Annual Pilgrimmage Arlington.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The custom of previous years was largely followed in the program for official observance today of the seventh anniversary of the World War armistice. Leading the nation in its tribute to those who fell in the struggle, President Calvin Coolidge will make a pilgrimage to the Arlington National Cemetery and lay a wreath on the unknown soldier's tomb. The ceremony was fixed at 11:00 o'clock. All government business was suspended for a minute or two at that hour in tribute to the memory of Woodrow Wilson. A twilight service was conducted at Washington Cathedral, his burial place.

ELEVEN ARRESTS MADE IN CALCUTTA DURING VISIT OF EARL OF READING

(By Associated Press).

CALCUTTA, India, Nov. 11.—While the Earl of Reading, Viceroy of India, was visiting this city today for an Armistice Day celebration, the police discovered a bomb factory. The bombs were confiscated. In the raid 11 natives were arrested.

Mrs. R. L. Brown Gives Report On Grand Chapter

The regular meeting of Bryan Chapter, No. 222, Order of the Eastern Star was held Monday night at the Masonic Temple at 8:0 0o'clock, with the following officers in charge: Mrs. R. L. Brown, acting worthy matron; Mrs. Albert Buchanan, acting associate matron; H. F. Smith, worthy patron; Miss Adelle Hall, secretary; Mrs. H. F. Smith, conductress; Mrs. J. R. Wright, associate conductress; Mrs. Rose Stubenraugh, chaplain; Mrs. Forrest Jones, pianist; Miss Florence Harris, Adah; Mrs. N. L. McCullough, Ruth; Mrs. Julius Groginsky, Esther; Mrs. M. M. Erskine, acting Martha; Mrs. R. M. Dansby, Electra; Mrs. Thomas Lundin, warder; R. L. Brown, sentinel. Mrs. Dora Wilson Strong, being absent on account of illness, Mrs. R. L. Brown conducted the entire session of the chapter. One of the delightful features of the hour was the report of the Grand Chapter meeting in San Antonio last week, given by Mrs. R. L. Brown, who represented the Bryan Chapter. Mrs. J. R. Wright, also attended grand chapter and the two, told many interesting things, and brought much valuable information to the Bryan O. E. S. Mrs. R. L. Brown's report was very full and very clear, and was said to be the best report ever given before the Bryan chapter.

Dr. S. R. Gammon Talks to Science Seminar Monday

(Special to the Eagle).

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 11.—The Social Science Seminar club held their regular meeting on Monday night at 8:00 o'clock in the Physics building, Dr. S. R. Gammon, head of the history department of the College was the speaker of the evening, his subject: "Some Jacksonian Contributions to American Polity". Prof. R. Clyde White, chairman presided and introduced the speaker of the evening. Mr. White announced that Professor R. A. Taroff of Rice Institute, Houston, would be the speaker for the next club meeting, Monday November 23rd.

"The origin and first use of the Unit Rule" and "Two-thirds Rule" in nominating convention was brought to maturity by Jackson's party in 1832, and still in use is one of the outstanding Jacksonian contributions, said Dr. Gammon.

The National nominating convention—a distinctively American contribution to political practice was developed most interestingly as follows: Originated in the revolt of western democracy against the congressional caucus; First use on a state scale to nominate Jackson in 1824; Applied to national politics by anti-masons and national republicans.

As all real history is biography, Jackson as the party leader was graphically told. First developing his intensive sense of the feeling of his party on leading issues. And steps in his assumption of personal leadership was shown as follows: Spoils system; Veto of internal improvement bill; Indian policy; Cabinet reorganization; Veto of bill rechartering the U. S. Bank.

Rev Thomson Is Home With Party From Lake Worth

Arriving in groups, on the early morning and afternoon trains Sunday, were Rev. Jesse C. Thomson, pastor of the Methodist group at College, and the 16 members of the young peoples' societies who accompanied him to Fort Worth to attend the Methodist Student Federation, the sessions of which were held in the mosque at Lake Worth. There were 14 boys and two girls in the group from College that attended. Rev. Thomson reports a most interesting and instructive session. There were 26 different colleges represented at the meeting. A. B. Chapin, one of the College delegation, was elected first vice-president of the State Federation and Rev. Jesse C. Thomson was reappointed as secretary for this conference which is one of five in the state of Texas. Those attending as delegates were: W. N. Petzing, W. L. Phillips, C. H. Quereau, R. C. Terry, G. W. Stennett, R. B. Owens, J. M. DeBardeleben, D. B. Harden, G. I. Froh, J. D. Stafford, L. O. McGill, Van amilton, F. A. Sheffield, A. P. McDonald, G. T. Henderson, Frank Moon, Miss Rosa Lee Kulak, Miss Clydie Mae Womack, Miss Ruth Watkins, Miss Dearn, and C. V. May.

COMMISSION HAS RIGHT TO VOID CONTRACT

(By Associated Press).

AUSTIN, Nov. 11.—Authority of the state highway commission to cancel maintenance contracts was upheld by Judge George Calhoun in the Fifty-third district court of Travis county Tuesday when he denied the application for injunction restraining the commission from canceling the Val Verde county maintenance contract held by Neyland and Smith of San Antonio.

Action of the judge in not granting the injunction is considered important in that it is the first time the authority of the highway commission to cancel maintenance contracts has been contested. It was held that the commission had the same authority to cancel as to make a contract, and whether the contractors maintained or failed to maintain the highways, was to be decided by the executive and not the judicial department of the government.

SOUTHERN VOTE WILL OBSTRUCT IN UNIFICATION

(By Associated Press).

BUFFALO, New York, Nov. 11. Opposition of the South will prevent the reunion of the Methodist Episcopal Churches, North and South, it was announced today by Bishop William McDowell of Washington, after the forenoon session of the Board of Bishops of that church, which is in session here. A vote on unification of the Northern and Southern branches of the Methodist Church is expected to be taken some time today by the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in session. It is reported that a majority of the delegates are anti-unificationists.

RAINFALL OVER HALF INCH

Rain began falling this morning at 9:00 o'clock and up to the noon hour today .57 of an inch had registered in the standard gauge maintained by the Eagle Printing Company. It was local, reports from over the county indicate that it did not reach far out of Bryan.

Unification Fight Looms At Canyon

(By Associated Press).

CANYON, Nov. 11.—A spirited fight on unification looms when the Northwest Texas Methodist conference business session opens here today. Thomas Turner of Amarillo, a leader of the lay anti-unification movement has called a laymens meeting to discuss the matter. The conference opened officially last night with the opening sermon by the Rev. Virgil Fisher of Amarillo.

Bishop James E. Dickey of Waco will preside at all sessions.

Contest Been Launched At K. of P. Lodge

At the regular Tuesday night session of Brazos Lodge No. 64, Knights of Pythias, a contest was launched on attendance and considering a number of different things that tend to make or detract from a good Pythian order, the system being one of points made or lost through activities or attendance, on time or tardy. The lodge is to be divided into two sections, the "Reds" and the "Blues" with the captains J. Marshall Bullock, Jr., and Oak McKenzie, respectively. The contest will run for a period of five weeks and end on Tuesday night, December 15th, followed by a banquet to be financed by the losing side on Friday night, December 18th. The charter members of each side were chosen at the Tuesday night meeting from the small attendance present due to counter attractions, and these will go out and solicit members for their side in the contest. A full account of the point system is to be contained in the issue of the Brazos Lodge News which is just coming off the press today.

Alvin Gregg, Hugo Lenz and W. J. Blazek were initiated into the Rank of Page at the meeting last night.

FATHER AND CHILDREN LOSE LIVES IN FIRE—MOTHER ESCAPED BY JUMPING

(By Associted Press).

EAST ORANGE, N. J., Nov. 11.—Joseph Distesano and his four children lost their lives in a fire which destroyed a six-family dwelling today. The mother escaped by jumping from a third-story window. Her youngest child, in her arms, was killed. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Veteran West Texas Cowman Dead At Abilene

ABILENE, Nov. 11.—Funeral services for T. M. Wright, 62 years old, of Nugent, veteran cowman of West Texas, who died suddenly Monday afternoon on a cattle train at Moran while on his way to Fort Worth with a load of cattle for the market, will be held at 10 o'clock at the cemetery at Abilene Wednesday.

Mrs. Frances E. Grubbs Is Dead

Mrs. Frances E. Grubbs, the aged mother of Mrs. D. B. Waite, who came to Bryan from her old home at Arp, Georgia, only a few weeks ago to be with her daughter, Mrs. Waite, during her last days of life, passed away today at the Waite home, Wednesday, November 11th, at 12:30 p. m.

Mrs. Grubbs was taken quite ill with pneumonia about a week ago and on account of her advanced age has been in a serious condition since the attack came. Loving hands and skilled medical attention was given but the dread disease advanced rapidly and today, at the hour above stated, the end came. Mrs. Frances E. Grubbs was born December 5th, 1831, in Franklin county, Georgia and was 94 years, 11 months and 6 days of age at the time of her death. She was the daughter of Noah and Frances Looney. She was married to Richard L. Grubbs on August 2, 1856, the husband having died in 1863. She was the mother of four daughters, only one of whom survive: Mrs. A. N. Payne of Arp, Georgia, who came to Texas with her mother and was here at the time of death.

The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock p. m. Thursday at the First Baptist Church with interment following in the City Cemetery.

NEARLY FIFTY LESS CONVICTS IN ONE MONTH

AUSTIN, Nov. 11.—Prison population of Texas decreased 48 during the month of September, according to the monthly report received by the governor from the prison commission covering the movement of the convicts during the month. On September 1, the number of convicts in prison and on the State and leased farms was 3,491, while on October 1, the number had been reduced to 3,443.

The report discloses there were no deaths among the convicts during September, while 47 escaped, of whom 17 were recaptured and seven were pardoned, seven were paroled and 12 furloughed. During the month 97 new convicts were received, five returned by sheriffs, two returned from parole, 14 returned from furloughs, 108 were discharged, four delivered to sheriffs.

The fire alarm sounded about 7:30 o'clock on Tuesday night and both auto trucks made a run to the Oak Grove Addition to the home of Ben Holder. The fire was put out with the use of chemicals only and the damage is said to have been slight.

A. & M. RODEO AND PAGEANT A SUCCESS

(Special to the Eagle).

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 11. The Seventh Annual Rodeo and Pageant held on Tuesday night at the A. and M. Animal Husbandry building, under the direction of Mesdames M. B. Parker and Stiles A. Giraud, was a complete success in every way. There was a mammoth attendance filling the large building and the total receipts were $1,050 from the entertainment.

The foreword in the program booklet explains the reasons why the pageant and rodeo and reads as follows:

"The A. and M. College of Texas has been represented with a livestock judging team at the International Livestock Exposition since 1914. During that time our teams have made a creditable showing against teams representing all of the more important agricultural states of the United States and provinces of Canada.

"Texas, Nebraska and Indiana are the only states that have been able to win the present trophy on two occasions. Our team this year, the 26th anniversary of the International Livestock Exposition, is hopeful of making the bronze trophy the permanent property of this institution.

"Prior to 1919 it was necessary for the men representing Texas to pay their own expenses on the training trips and the trip to Chicago. This amount that is usually cost about $200.00 for a man to represent Texas in the International Contest. The Junior Animal Husbandry students realizing this to be an injustice, often an insurmountable barrier for a student working his way through College, started the Annual Rodeo and Livestock Show. It met with instant success and has grown each year. The proceeds are given to the team representing the A. and M. Colelge of Texas. There are no complimentary tickets even for the students responsible for the show. It is strictly a students' show, and the aim is to give entertainment typical of Texas".

Event No. 1 on the program was "A. and M.'s 50th Birthday Party", and in it were couples to represent each year of the College since its foundation. Those taking part were as follows: 1875, Kate Parker, Pinkie Talbot; 1879, Mary Jones, Jelly Priesmeyer; 1881, Frances Smith, John Danna; 1883, Harriet Amsler, T. R. Menke; 1884, Josephine Eden, Harry Peterson; 1885, Katherine Zade Bowen, F. Mayfield; 1886, Kathleen Sims, Johnny McCoy; 1887, Lily Bess Kyle, Bob Reilly; 1889, Pauline Doremus, E. O. Buck; 1890, Patti Sims, Jack DeBruin; 1891, Esther McCulloch, B. B. McCutcheon; 1893, Mattie Mike, Cadet Nelson; 1895, Nobie Webb, Al Jennings; 1897, Cornelia Young, Larry Lightner; 1899, Dorothy Etile, Jack Idol; 1901, Pauline McCulloch, Jack Turner; 1903, Eilzabeth Cline, G. B. Manning; 1905, Louise Martir, Gordon Gillispie; 1907, Eula Frances Dunn, Jim Forgason; 1909, Lorraine Marburger, I. M. Rollins; 1911, Julia Peterson, Bill Armstrong; 1912, Ruth Stonham, Ellis Wilson; 1913, Maud Barry, Buck Greenstreet; 1914, Hettie Edge, C. H. Dodson; 1915, Wava Martin, Ruben Lathrop; 1917, Dorothy Terrell, R. S. Rosenborough; 1918, Thetis Harrison of Navasota, G. M. Gatlin; 1919, Sarah Boyett, B. W. Haywood; 1921, Lorraine Cox, Tiny Curtis; 1922, Lois Boyett, G. W. Scott; 1923, Gene Edge, Cecil Boyce; 1924, Louise Cline, Levi Garrett; 1925, Ethyl Walton, George Ross.

Victory was represented by Miss Elizabeth Clark of Waco, who is the granddaughter of the late ex-Governor Sul Ross, former President of the A. and M. College. The Duchess of A. and M. to the Waco Cotton Palace was Miss Lila Wickes of Bryan and the Maid of Honor, Miss Edna Wilkins of Houston. The escorts were: W. M. Pinson, F. Munnerlyn, J. F. Broad, Brunner Rawlins, Frank Kelley, Sid Kyle and Yett, trumpeter.

As a part of the program a large birthday cake was in evidence and from a little door came three very attractive little girls: Maulice Searcy, Ann Seale and Olive Ruth Hensarling. They bowed to the King and Queen of the Rodeo, Miss Ethyl Walton and George Ross, representing 1925, and took their seats. There followed the parade of the tin soldiers, seventeen in number, as follows: Misses Margaret Grant, Margaret Parker, Catherine Henderson, Dorothy Doane, Leila Law Davis, Martha Newland, Ruth Wilcox, Jessie Myrtle Hensarling, Frances Locke, Mittie Louise Ross, Louise Weddington, Margaret Cobb, Ida Belle Higgs, Nellie Ruth Martin, Ralphana Searcy and Dorothy Griffin, Pauline Davis.

There followed a parade of livestock with C. J. Todd and V. O. McCoy in charge. Then the Light Harness Class showing "Red Oak" of the Animal Husbandry Department and "Louisville Lou", the latter the property of Prof. Geo. P. Grout.

The entries in the equestrian jumping competition were: R. Q. Oaks, J. M. Parks, J. F. Ford, N. H. Reviere, A. R. Pier, Mrs. H. H. Cheshire, J. A. Davis and H. A. Russell. Mrs. Cheshire was the only woman rider and won first place, her splendid riding eliciting much applause from the audience.

The goat roping contest was won by T. A. Kincaid in 23 seconds. The purpose of this event was to rope and tie the animal in as little time as possible. Each roper was allowed one loop and if he missed he was to immediately retire from the field. Other entries were: J. S. Buchanan, Warren Thurston, F. Luckenbach, H. R. Porter, C. M. Floyd, W. R. Coleman, J. H. Floyd, and C. W. McDonald.

The wild-cow milking proved a great entertainer. Contestants worked in pairs. Each team was issued one Coca Cola bottle. A shot was fired for the start. At the end of the five minute period the team having the most milk was declared the winner. If the bottle were filled before the time was up the team having the filled bottle was to report to the referee. No contestants filled their bottles, even the winners, Kincaid and Maufrais, barely getting enough to show in the bottle. Other teams were: S. F. Brewster and J. S. Maye; J. F. Ford and H. R. Ellis; and E. O. Shaw and M. A. Smith and C. M. Lloyd and W. A. Daniels.

Event No. 7 was the five-gaited Riding Class, to be judged on conformation and performance. All horses were required to show five distinct gaits: walk, trot, canter, running walk, fox trot or slow pace, and rack. There were six entries: John D. Rockefeller by King Shotwood, ridden by Dr. R. P. Marstellar; Tango Billy by Fat Murphy, ridden by Miss Geraldine Grout; Jerry Harrison, ridden by Mrs. R. P. Marstellar, which won the event, Pollyanna, ridden by Professor Geo. P. Grout; Snip, ridden by Cadet Sharp and Prince, ridden by Owen Garrigan.

Exhibition of Calf Branding was next demonstrated which was followed by a Roman Chariot race, which was scarcely a race there being but one entry, H. L. Phillips.

The bronco and steer riding contests closed the rodeo and the regulations that all bronc riders were required to hold one hand above the shoulder until the pistol for a complete ride is fired. Steer riders might hold with both hands but must have their feet above the animals shoulder point for the first five jumps of the ride. If contestants did not comply with these rules "no ride" was the verdict. Those entering were: J. A. Davis, R. Q. Oaks, C. M. Floyd, S. F. Brewster, B. F. Sharp, L. N. Bourland, C. E. Woolridge, J. F. Floyd, J. B. Allen, C. L. Drake, C. T. Harris, T. A. Kincaid, W. R. Coleman, L. A. Shillings, J. Humphries, J. T. Blair, C. W. McDonald, C. A. Miller.

Hon. S. S. Baker Of Panola Dead

CARTHAGE, Panola Co., Nov. 11.—S. S. Baker, 70 years old, of this city, member of the State Legislature, was found dead in his bed at a hotel in New Orleans at 5 p. m. BEGIN AT HOME.

There is an old Chinese proverb which goes something like this: "Let every man who would live in a cleaner city, first sweep before his own door step". While this proverb was intended to have figurative meaning only, yet it is a good time for Bryan to give it a literal application and after all that is the real test of the truth of any such utterance. Soon Bryan and College are to be hosts to thousands and thousands of visitors coming here to see the football game between Texas Longhorns and Texas Aggies. Just suppose every man in Bryan did sweep before his own door and not stop at that but look carefully to the appearance of the outside of his shop, clean his walks and take a real pride in the neatness of his surroundings. Wouldn't Bryan be a much more attractive town and community? And suppose every home owner devoted a little more thought and care to their premises. And suppose every property owner gave a little more time and money to the care of his property we wouldn't have these unsightly dumps, vacant lots with weeds and miserable eyes sores of ugly bill boards and etc. But instead we would have Bryan a beauty spot that would attract the attention of every stranger that came within our gates. Community beautification begins at home. And our first thought in community beautification and improvement should be to improve the appearance of what we ourselves control. The time is here for Bryan citizens to begin to clean-up and no campaign will be necessary to make Bryan the clean and beautiful little city that it should be on Thanksgiving Day, if every citizen will begin at home.

KINDS OF PEOPLE

A man said in our office the other morning that he would much prefer to have an Honest Enemy than a Crooked Friend.

There's much for thought in that statement. The man whom we know to be dishonest or unfair in his dealings with men, the man whom we know will beat us in a business or financial deal, can be avoided. But the man who pretends to be our friend and tells us that he is only too glad to be of service and do anything he can for us; who sits in the pew each Sunday night perhaps and mingles with his betters, and yet who when the pinch comes and he must take a stand, turns against you; he is more harm than an open enemy the man who can and has worked with honest intentions and who deals squarely from the book of life.

There are men who veil themselves with the cloak of good character and uprightness, who, when they find it convenient to resort to unfair or slightly unscrupulous methods or policies will employ the services of another, or turn the point of the weapon in another's direction to shield themselves. These people are even more cowardly and more to be despised for they have not the courage to stand for themselves but hide behind another's back and point the finger of suspicion to one to whom it does not belong.

May we ever have the conviction to admit our wrongs, to be willing to face our shortcomings by announcing to the world that we know we have them, by admitting our inferiority to the perfect man and living as near as we can on the principle of the "Golden Rule".

Does every citizen in Bryan stop to think that every dollar they spend in Bryan helps to build up a better town and a community? Short indeed is the vision of any man or woman who does not see that every business successfully operated and every advantage gained means increasing the wealth of the entire community. When you spend your money remember this and you will besitate before you send it out of Bryan and Brazos county. Community building begins with every individual citizen utilizing and developing to the fullest extent every resource at his own door. Begin at your own door.

The total value of all agricultural products in California last year was $419,000,000, or $81,000,000 less than the tax bill. Mineral products, including petroleum were valued at $359,000,000.

Politics are going to be interesting this next year. You better pay your poll tax so you can have your say in the results.

QUIET BUT EFFECTIVE

I shall keep on teaching what I believe to be real religion. Though its quiet voice may not be heard now, as the trumpets blare insistently for more constitutional amendments, more statutory enactments and more welfare movements, I still believe that it has attractive power and that the day may not be far distant when men will once more recognize its modest charm. A few hundred kindly, courteous, quiet, well-disposed churchmen in a community—all of them minding their own business and modestly and unobtrusively worshipping and serving God in their own way; not obnoxiously insistent that everybody shall serve and worship God in exactly the same way; in particular, not inquisitive as to the faults of others, nor overzealous to bring them to repentance and a better life—a few hundred decent, old-fashioned Christians of this type will do more for the good of their fellowmen than all the leaders of all the Hi Y's in this glorious land of the free and home of the brave. —Rt. Rev. Charles Fiske, of New York.

MINISTER TO NEEDY

The cold wave and norther that is now upon us will bring to many homes suffering from conditions due to the drouth of the past several months and short-crop season, want, need and misery. There will be homes, both among the colored race and the white, where there will be little bedding little firewood and little clothing. There will be little to eat to keep the body hardy and able to withstand the rigors of winter.

We complain of hard times and that we cannot give to charity for that reason and the next night we are driving our cars for pleasure and giving parties and serving costly food to people who do not need it and really down in their hearts and stomach do not care for it.

While this is not intended for a sermon as we are not a preacher—at the same time our religion is not one of sentiment and "shouting" only, but the deeper religion of Christ who believed that the greatest good we could do on earth was in serving others. This is a time when people and organizations, religious or civic, may show their hearts and their right to exist by getting out and relieving want and suffering—not in China nor in Africa, but in Bryan. To say it is not here because we don't want to believe it or have it said about our city, is to dodge the issue. It is here and will be here this winter. It's a guestion that must be met, not dodged.

Going into these homes that are in need and going into homes of heathens in foreign lands and merely talking religion and trying to cram Christ down their necks is not going to get very far. You've got to minister to a man's physical wants before you can do much with him mentally or spiritually. And to neglect to take care of our needy and provide for the physical necessities that they should have is a far greater neglect than that of spiritual comfort and welfare. This is not to decry religion and its teaching, but rather to use psychological common-sense and apply the proper method of ministering to physical needs and the rest will follow in order and iwth logical sequence.—H. D. Cee.

Half the towns of Texas now are claiming the appellation: "Friendly City" but that don't get them anything unless they live up to it. Bryan lays claim to being the "Friendly City" and we are truly living up to it. This friendly spirit manifested by the Bryan citizens is quickly converting strangers into friends when they come by way of Bryan. Friendliness is an asset that brings its own reward.

It was President Lamar who said: "A cultivated mind is the guardian genius of democracy; it is the only dictator that free men acknowledge, and the only security that freemen desire". This is as fundamentally true today as when he gave utterance to it, but we are differing radically as to the means of attaining a cultivated mind, according to our conception of the types of education we need to follow.

The students of Bryan High school are to be congratulated for the efforts they are putting forth in publishing the Bryan Review each week in the Eagle. It should serve as a means of awakening interest in the school and help solve many of the problems that come up. Perhaps the best thing to be accomplished by it will be the teaching of the students, the art of expressing themselves in writing. If the good things of the world are to be sold to the people it is just as necessary that the younger generation kniw the art of good writing as it is good spelling.

The latest is now that Perdue University is giving a course in yell-leading. Surely cheer is not to be commercialized. What next?

FINE PROGRAM IS PRESENTED WOMAN'S CLUB

A splendid meeting of the Bryan Woman's Club was held at Carnegie Library rooms on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, despite the very inclement weather. The attendance was the largest of the present year, and the program one of the best. With the president, Mrs. J. N. Goodwin, presiding, the business of the club was quickly dispensed with and the very delightful program of the day taken up.

In the absence of Mrs. S. C. Hoyle, appointed leader for the program, Mrs. J. L. Lush took her place and gave a wonderful talk on the subject, "The great changes in world politics, touching American interests". Three papers were given, "What measure have been effected for agricultural relief," by Mrs. W. Wipprecht; "World Peace," by Mrs J. L. Brock, and "Must we call our criminal record 'the Great American Failure'," by Mrs. A. K. Brown. In the very delightful discussion which followed, the club women brought many splendid thoughts on the "Summary and Outlook," mentioning "aviation," the "radio," and the "National Air Service," etc.

Truly, the Woman's Club is one of the most delightful and interesting educational clubs of the city and its membership, now numbering about fifty-five women, under the direction of the capable president, Mrs. J. N. Goodwin, is enjoying an unusual year of pleasure and profit.

TEXAS TALK

Reckless driving is one of the banes of modern life but it isn't such a purely modern evil as many persons might fancy.

The Bryan Daily Eagle last week reproduced a story taken from its files of 25 years ago, which said:

"The Eagle desires to warn the people against reckless driving on Main Street, especially when the thoroughfare is crowded. A woman was knocked down yesterday and fortunately escaped, though she might have been killed or dangerously injured. The time to stop the matter is now before anything happens."

When a two-horse team got unruly and began a mad race down the thoroughfare, kicking iron-shod hoofs above the doubletree every few feet, there was just as much excitement as a choice automobile collision creates now. Pedestrians, leaping madly from the path of spirited steeds, used just as classical language as the pedestrians of today use.

As a matter of history, pedestrian expressed their indignation at vehicles and vans as early as their reign of Rameses in Egypt. In the Roman empire and especially in the Imperial City, the groundwork of our present system of traffic regulations was laid.—Houston Post-Dispatch.

COUNTY AGENT AND MRS. BEASON BUILDING HOUSE ON COLLEGE ROAD

Dirt is being broken for the building of the new bungalow home of County Agent and Mrs. C. L. Beason on College Boulevard in the Beason addition. The contractor is J. L. Barron. The home will be a six room frame building, brick trimmed, with all modern conveniences of porches and etc., with built in furniture for beauty and convenience. When completed it will be an added attraction to the civic beauty of that section of Bryan. Day by day that part of Bryan is being built up with attractive homes for home owners.

J. L. WOOD LOCAL MANAGER AMERICAN RAILWAY CO. HELPS WIN IN CONTEST

J. L. Wood, local agent for the American Railway Express Co., went to Houston Sunday to visit homefolks, returning this morning. He has received announcement that the Southern Texas territory has won first place during the third quarter of a special contest in claim prevention work conducted throughout the express organization in the Southwest. The local office played a part in the making of this record.

WILL CONRAD EXHIBITS SOME FINE SPECIMENS OF HIGARA—HEADS HUGE

Will Conrad of the Tabor community brought to Bryan Monday some very fine specimens of higara, the heads of which were about ten inches long and well matured. Mr. Conrad states that he has several acres of this feed, which will require some ten days or two weeks fair weather for full maturity and harvesting.

HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA IN FIRST PROGRAM

Bryan high school orchestra made its first public appearance on Tuesday morning at assembly hour at the high school auditorium. So excellent were the numbers given, and so delightful the music, that those in charge of the organization are being urged to enter the Bryan high school orchestra in the spring interscholastic musical contests in the state. Prof. L. M. Baltzell of the high school was in charge of the program of the day, and was instrumental in the first presentation of the orchestra. One duet and a quartet and several orchestral numbers were given, each one being received with prolonged applause. At the close of the program, the orchestra played the official Bryan high song, music and words written by Sam Knox of Bryan, and the entire audience joined in the singing. It was an occasion of great pleasure in Bryan high school, and the citizens of Bryan are already proud of the success attained by the new orchestra and predict great success for the organization as the weeks go by. Mrs. Roy Danforth is directress, and the following are the members of the orchestra: Clarinets, Bennie Nedbalek and Clyde Bowman; cornets, Prof. L. M. Baltzell and Frank Nedbalek; trombone, Lewis Nedbalek; violins, George Smith, C. B. Moehlman, Bryce Van Burkleo, Charles McIntosh; mandolin, Lalla Deen Randolph; piano, Louise Martin.

Roger Hooker, '07 Aggie Team, Saw Waco Game

Roger Hooker, Aggies tackle of 1907, 1908 and 1909, was among the visitors in Waco on October 31 for the Baylor-Aggie game. Hooker played next to Charlie DeWare at Aggieland, and this former star, who now makes his home in Daingerfield, declares that DeWare's record still stands as the greatest made by any end in the Southwest. Hooker says that during the entire season of 1908 the total distance gained around or over DeWare's end by runs, plunges or forward passes was five yards. And the Aggies met eight teams that year, being defeated in two games by Texas University.—Waco News-Tribune.

COLLEGE CLUB WOMEN OFF FOR STATE MEETING

Mrs. B. Youngblood of College Station, president of the Fourth District went to Austin Sunday to meet with the executive board of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, which convenes in Austin today, preceding the meeting of the Federation from the 10th to 14th. Through the courtesy of Mrs. Henry Redmond, state president Mrs. Youngblod was invited to meet with the board, so she could familiarize herself with the workings of the federation before she actively takes up the duties of presidency of her district. Others going from College are: Mrs. George P. Grout, representing the Campus Study Club; Mrs. Chas. H. Winkler, who goes as an interested spectator and Mrs. E. J. Fermier, who has been invited to read her winning poem "The Ladder" before the club meeting.

Colored Home In Need Funds

The Colored Orphans' Home at Booneville is in dire need of feed for their livestock and for food and clothing for the inmates of the home, according to E. M. Griggs, superintendent of the home who has been at the head of the institution for the past ten months, coming here from a pastorate at Palestine. He says that every month for the past 10 months he has raised about $100 which has materially aided in the maintenance of the home but now it becomes necessary to purchase feed for the cattle, hogs, horses, chickens and to provide for the comfort of the children in necessities this winter. He said that he had secured from the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce a permit to solicit funds in Bryan and on Thursday would begin the drive and would continue until sufficient funds had been raised to take care of all needs. Griggs said that he would solicit among both colored and white people and in conclusion stated that he would be glad to have the good white people visit the home and see what is being done and note the needs of the institution.

JIM RAMSEY BROT BAYLOR GIRLS TO BRYAN

J. Z. Ramsey drove to Cameron Saturday to meet and bring to Bryan the following Baylor College girls: Misses Vera Ramsey, and her guest, Cora Whitley, Johnnye Guynes, a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Grant and Florence Means. Sunday evening David Washburn, student at A. and M. with three of his class mates was host at a dinner party at College to these young ladies. A buffet supper and slumber party are other social events being planned in their honor before their return to school, after Armistice Day exercises.

Rev. Hollomon Elected Member Of Pastors' Body

The Pastors' Association of Bryan met in regular Monday morning session yesterday at the Presbyterian study of Rev. W. N. Sholl. Rev. Roy S. Hollomon, pastor of the College Avenue Baptist church, was unanimously elected to membership and also chosen to preach the Thanksgiving sermon at 10 o'clock on the morning of Thursday, November 26th, at the First Methodist church. Rev. C. B. Thompson is the president of the association and Rev. H. H. McCain, secretary.

HighSchool Choral Club In Armistice DayProgramToday

On Tuesday morning, November 10th, the eve of Armistice Day holiday, a patriotic program was rendered at the assembly hour in the auditorium of the Bryan High school building before a large audience. The program was put on by the High School Choral Club and the High School Orchestra and was most creditable and was highly complimented by the many visitors present. The program opened with assembly singing of patriotic songs, after which two numbers were given by the High School Choral Club, following by several numbers by the entrie orchestra. Mrs. Roy Danforth, director of the musical organizations at the school arranged and led the program given. Two new members are reported as having joined the orchestra since last week: Jack Doane, saxaphone; and Harry Dishman, cornet.

Bryan Team Is Entertained By Their Sponsor

The victorious Bryan high football team, having won the championship in this district, No. 13, were honor guests on Friday evening at Fin-Feather Club, when their sponsor, Miss Wava Martin, entertained most delightfully, assisted by Miss Lois Manley and Miss Gladys Vance. The club house rooms were adorned in the high school colors of green and white, and with a wealth of flowers and ferns, and many lights, the scene was most attractive. Music was furnished during the evening, and dancing was the program of entertainment. High school girls and others from the city, to the number of football boys, made up the congenial company and the evening was one of unalloyed pleasure. Punch was served, and later in the evening hot chocolate and cake.

FIRST QUARTER SCORE HELD THRU GAME--CAMERON LOST BY 7 TO 0

With a team that is comparative to the championship team of 1921 and a coach that has instilled into the men not only the rudiments of football but also the spirit of fighting every inch of the game, Bryan High School has won the championship of the 13th district in the State Interscholastic League and is now ready to enter the inter-district contest leading to the semi-finals and finals. The game on Edge Field on Friday afternoon was the deciding game in the district and Cameron went down to defeat before the Bryan eleven by the score of 7 to 0, the touchdown coming in the first quarter. Bryan was closing a drive for another touchdown as the game ended and had they had a few more minutes to play it is believed by those who witnessed the game that another touchdown would have been the result. The next opponent of Bryan may be Itasca, Humble or Belton.

FIELD IS GOOD.

Edge Field was in comparatively good shape for the game despite the heavy rains of the past few days. The field drains well and is of gravel surface, which made it somewhat dry, compared to the areas around the field. There was an unusually large crowd of people in attendance at the game and the officials and others interested in the team were glad to see the personal and financial support coming to the team in recognition of the work they have done this year.

BRYAN ELKS CLUB SPONSORS FINANCES BRYAN HIGH TEAM

The Bryan High School football team is not worrying about finances in future, said Forrest Jones, Business Manager, in announcing the fact that the Elks Club of Bryan had agreed to sponsor the financing of the team in the future and the team has been informed that it can go as far as it likes in the purchase of necessary equipment. It is understood that Cameron raised about $2,000 for their team this year and Bryan has had to go on limited means all season. The Elks Club believes in Bryan High and that they have a team that will go far in the state league honors.

First Quarter

Cameron won the toss and Driver kicked off for Bryan, making a poor out of it, the ball going out of bounds with less than 20 yards gain. Cameron smashed the line for a yard, got three more on a fake and on third down punted to Bryan's 36 yard line. Cloud went through the line for four yards off left tackle, Dansby found the same hole productive of three more and then repeated for five yards and first down and ten. Cloud shot through right tackle for a good gain and Dansby went through left tackle again, putting the ball on Cameron's 56 yard line. Here Locke fumbled and another fumble by Cloud on attempted punt was recovered by Cloud but the ball went over on downs.

Cameron made five yards on a fake play, D. Cole making a pretty tackle. Trant tackled a criss cross play for a gain of only a few inches. Cameron again punted on third down to Bryan's 27 yard line. Here Bryan started the drive that ended in a score. Cloud lost a little on the first down but Locke made 8 on a fake play and followed it up with three more on the next down. Driver made it first and ten. A forward pass was incomplete and Locke circled the end for five yards. On the next play, Locke shot off tackle for 14 yard gain. Locke failed to gain on the next down but the following play was triple pass and was completed, Cloud to Driver, that put the ball on Cameron's 25 yard line. Cloud shot through left tackle on a shift play for 9 yards and repeated for first and ten. He made two more on a similar play and Locke shot through left tackle carrying the ball right up on the goal line when Locke carried it over for the touchdown. Cloud missed the goal but Cameron was offside and the point was given to Bryan.

Cameron kicked off to Bryan, a beautiful kick that carried the ball to Bryan's 10-yard line, but Cloud made an even more beautiful return to Cameron's 45-yard line. Cloud went through left tackle for a yard and Locke made two more on a similar play. Driver made it first and ten but his bad arm caused a fumble and Cameron recovered as the whistle blew for quarter.

Second Quarter.

Cameron fakes and made five yards and got two more on a smash but punted on third down, far down the field to Bryan's 29 yard line where the ball went into play. Locke failed to gain and Adams of the Cameron team tackled Dansby's end run for a slight loss. Cloud punted to the middle of the field. Childress, the star back for Cameron, smashed the line for two yards and a forward pass being incomplete, Childress tried an end run and made 16 yards. An off-tackle play made 7 more and the ball was on Bryan's 88 yard line. A fake and smash netted nothing and first and ten was made only by inches on the next down. Being held here when Cobb tackled a Childress end run for no gain. Cloud tackled another attempted end run for a five yard loss and Bryan took the ball on downs. Cloud punted away down the field and an additional 15 yard penalty on Cameron for holding, put the ball into play on Cameron's 28 yard line. Childress made an end run for a five yard gain and two mashes made fight and 10. On the next play Cloud blocked a pass which Driver caught and the ball went to Bryan in the middle of the field. Locke thru tackle for five yards, Dansby through center for three and Cameron's off-side penalty made first and 10 when the whistle blew for half.

Third Quarter.

Driver kicked off from Bryan and the ball went into play on Cameron's 32 yard line. Moody smashed the line for nine yards. An end run by Childress failed to gain but he made four yards on the next play. Then Cameron punted to Bryan's 28 yard line. Here Bryan drew two consecutive penalties for offside and Cloud punted to the middle of the field. Cameron made five yards on an end run and Cameron punted to Bryan's 22-yard line. Bryan offside two more times, put the ball on her own 7-yard line. Cloud punted to the middle of the field, where the ball was at the opening of the fourth quarter.

Fourth Quarter.

Cameron was held and punted out of bounds on Bryan's 15-yard line. Cloud punted to Bryan's 42 yard line. A smash by Cameron failed to gain and a pass completed to the end ,made five yards. Cameron then punted, the ball going out of bounds with only a three yard gain. Bryan took the ball and Locke smashed for five yards. Joe Buck failed to gain and Cloud made four through the line. Cloud punted to Cameron's 35-yard line. Cameron failed to gain on an end run and Haneman who had substituted for Driver, on his second play in the game intercepted a pass and it was Bryan's ball near the middle of the field. Locke lost a yard and Bryan drew a penalty for backfield in motion. Locke made five yards back and Cloud punted. Cameron fumbling, Bryan recovered. Bryan drew a five yard penalty for offside and immediately afterward Cameron was penalized 15 yards. This put the ball on Cameron's 14 yard line. Smashes carried the ball to the 11-yard line when the whistle blew for the game.

Another Cotton Contest Will Be Held In 1926

County Agent C. L. Beason is in receipt of a letter from Victor H. Schoffelmayer, agricultural editor, Dallas Morning News and Semi Weekly Farm News, answering the many inquiries as to whether or not there will a 1926 "More Cotton on Fewer Acres Contest", by saying, "Yes! It will be bigger and better this year and there will be more prizes. An effort will be made to take care of the upland farmers and to look after staple. Tell your farmers and your chamber of commerce that the contest department of the Dallas News and Semi-Weekly Farm News will help them arouse interest in your county to put on the Cotton Contest in a big way in 1926, but you should start now".

Kelse Howell of Santone Buying Cattle In Brazos

I. K. Howell (known among his friends as Kelse) of San Antonio, stockman, is here purchasing cattle in Brazos, Grimes and Robertson counties to ship to his ranch at Kyle, Hayes county, for pasturage. Mr. Howell has purchased four carloads of 2 and 3 year olds from R. H. Seale of Benchley and R. W. Thurman of Bryan, which will be loaded and shipped today. Others go from Navasota, the quarantine against that county on account of being in the foot and mouth disease area being raised today. Mr. Howell is one of the successful cattlemen of Texas.

Half And Half Cotton Penalized On Many Markets

It's a rare occasion when someone doesn't get hurt by fooling with what is known as half and half cotton, and, unlike most things, its generally the last fellow that buys it that gets hurt.

It used to be that a farmer could plant half and half cotton and the staple would get by until it reached the spinner, who would be the loser. After the spinner had learned the lesson, the cotton broker would try and sell the spinner and it would be either refused by the spinner or the price slashed to where the broker could not come out on it, it has in the past few years educated the brokers and they are dodging the half and half and the local cotton buyers who buy the short staple from the farmer is taking a big risk in getting it by the brokers, and it isn't being done, with very few exceptions, and these few exceptions will soon be a thing of the past.

People who buy cotton these days are better educated in the staple than they used to be, and a farmer who raises half and half, regardless of how pretty the cotton is, is realizing that he can't get as much for the short staple as he can for the standard cotton.

One of our best farmers, J. T. Black, sent a bale of cotton (Mebane) to H. Kempner, of Galveston, a few days ago and asked him what he thought of the half and half cotton from a market point of view, and Mr. Kempner replied as follows:

"Half and half cotton may sell at as high a price as cotton produced from a better seed to buyers who are unable to tell the difference in the staple, but in large markets it is immediately penalized as many have found to their sorrow. This season, particularly, staple is very important, cotton grown from poor seed or under drouthy conditions is of very poor quality. The outlet for this weak and short staple product is very small and you will hear more of this during this season than you have heard many years."—Cotton and Cotton Oil News.

Mrs. M. Tatum to Supervise High School Cafeteria

Arrangements are almost completed for the opening of the Cafeteria at Bryan High School building. Mrs. Morris Tatum will have the supervision of the work, and as she has had valuable college training and experience in such lines, success is almost assured in the beginning. The Parent-Teachers' association has begun this very necessary work, and will sponsor it during the school year. The P-T-A is hopeful of not only bringing a benefit to the children of the school, but also in securing the cooperation of the mothers in the continuation of this food problem for growing children. Other cities in Texas, not so large as Bryan have supported a school cafateria for several years, and Bryan must take its place in this progressive program. The P-T-A is very appreciative of the encouragement already given this proposition by many of the business men of Bryan as well as the parents of the children and appeals to all to help to make the plan a success.

COTTON IS KING AT HUNTINGTON

(Huntington Messenger)

Huntington, Angelina county, will this year almost double any former record for cotton production. Did you ever see such an increase? It looks as if the whole country tried to "turn" to cotton. Farmers who have heretofore been producing around five bales are selling from ten to twenty-five bales this year.

One man living a mile from town, cultivating about 30 acres in cotton, doing all the plowing himself, has already sold 27 bales and has more to sell.

One Baptist Preacher.

John White, a Baptist preacher, lives about two miles north of Huntington. He pastors four churches and is away from his farm every Saturday, Sunday, and part of Monday. He planted 12 acres in cotton this year. He has already sold 17 bales off of this 12 acres and has another bale or so.

Uncle Mat Marshall, on the Sayers farm has 5 acres in cotton, unfertilized, from which he will get seven or eight bales.

He "Takes the Cake".

Byrd Brothers, in addition to looking after their mercantile business cultivated about 15 acres in cotton. They have already sold 13 bales, with more to sell.

A. S. Woodrome, near Odell school, from 45 acres of cotton on his farm, has already sold 47 bales. He is not through yet.

Billie Roberts, renting a farm on Odell Creek, sold 19 bales at one deal last week.

Uncle Frank Harvill "takes the cake", though, with three 500-pound bales from one acre of ground with no fertlizer.

Delphian Chapter Meeting On Friday

The regular first Friday program of the Delphian Society was conducted according to the year book, with Mrs. W. B. Cline, as leader for the afternoon.

The subject "Romanesque and Gothic Architecture and Early Italian Art" was treated under text reports as follows: "Cinabue's Life and Works," Miss Willie Rogers; "Giatto", Mrs. W. H. Darrow; "The Churches of Assisi and Giotto's Companile," Mrs. M. Francis; "Fra Angelico," Mrs. M. W. Owens; "Fra Filippo Lippi", Mrs. S. E. Eberstadt; "A Critique of Church Paintings, Mrs. Chas. Wetter.

The membership of the club has been divided into two teams under Mrs. W. S. Howell and Mrs. M. R. Bentley as captains. An attendance record will be kept by the captains and the team with the best attendance record will be entertained by the losing team.

Members are urged to attend first, because of the intense interest and helpfulness of the programs, and second, to give spirit to the contest which will culminate in a pleasant event later in the year. The next regular meeting will be November 20. "The Golden Age of Painting" with Mrs. G. L. Crawford, as leader.

Methodist Groups Met On Monday In Homes of Members

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Methodist church met on Monday afternoon in groups at homes of group members, reports of which meetings have been turned in to the Eagle for publication as follows:

Group No. 3 Meeting.

Group No. 3 met with Mrs. R. W. Downard. The ladies were delighted to have with them Mrs. Albert Haneman, their chairman, who has been ill for sometime and she was given a cordial greeting which made her know beyond a question of a doubt that she had been greatly missed. Mrs. B. T. Poole led the prayer and Mrs. W. W. Solomon and Mrs. Poole both gave splendid papers on the home mission work and their schools maintained, emphasizing the Vashti School at Thomasville, Ga. Following the lesson Mrs. Downard assisted by her daughter, Mrs. R. D. Downard passed a refreshment plate of chicken salad, olives and a cup of hot tea. Present were: Mesdames Dona Carnes, R. W. Downard, B. T. Poole, W. W. Solomon, J. W. Barron, C. L. Eder, Hiram Downard, Albert Haneman and Mildred Eden. The group will meet with Mrs. Haneman next week.

Group No. 4 Meeting.

Group No. 4 met Monday afternoon with Mrs. E. J. Jenkins. The chairman, Mrs. J. B. Priddy read the 13th chapter of 1st Cor. and prayer by Mrs. C. A. Lewis. Nine members responded to roll call and two visitors, who became members of the group: Mrs. J. C. Sublette and Mrs. J. J. Mays. The Mission Study lesson "From Over the Border" was lead by Mrs. S. E. Eberstadt. The lesson was made very interesting by all taking part in the discussion. After the lesson the hostess served a plate of chicken salad, crackers, salted pecans and a cup of tea. The following members were present: Mesdames J. B. Priddy, P. H. Hensarling, C. R. Gardner, R. B. Welch, L. A. Koenig, S. E. Eberstadt, C. A. Lewis, E. J. Jenkins and Miss Lillie Hall.

Group No. 5 met with Mrs. N. Snapp in a most delightful meeting with fifteen members present, reporting 57 chapters read and 10 visits made to sick and strangers. Mrs. Nat Allen led the devotional and prayer was led by Mrs. H. N. Cochran following which Mrs. O. A. Ashworth directed the Mission Study lesson on "From Over the Border" assisted by Mesdames W. M. Owens, A. K. Brown and John Seeley Caldwell. Those present were: Mesdames J. M. Williams, W. M. Owens, H. N. Cochran, H. R. Brayton, G. C. Thornton, John Seeley Caldwell, Nat Allen, O. O. Henderson, Jas. W. James, Will Poindexter, W. K. Gibbs, N. N. Snapp, O. A. Ashworth and Miss Callie Kern.

Extension Service Club Meets With Mrs. G. W. Barnes

Despite the inclement weather the Extension Service Club had a very good meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. W. Barnes, with Mrs. W. H. Darrow, presiding. Following a business sesion the meeting was given over to the leader of the afternoon, Mrs. H. H. Wililamson, who read a most excellent paper on "Literature for Children". Mrs. J. T. Egan gave a splendid talk on 'Entertainment That the Whole Family Will Enjoy". Discussion on "Whether Motion Pictures Entertained and Educated or Have a Doubtful Influence" proved profitable. Then Little Miss Philena Darrow gave a clever reading and Master George Darrow gave a humor sketch. At the conclusion of the session the hostess passed a refreshment plate reflecting the color scheme of orange and black. Those present were: Mesdames George W. Barnes, G. L. Crawford, W. H. Darrow, H. H. Williamson, J. T. Eagan, S. C. Evans, V. R. Glazener, D. L. Weddington, O. O. Henderson, E. A. Miller, N. F. Rode, A. F. Smith, A. P. Swallow, G. O. Turner and A. L. Ward.

F. D. Fuller Is Made Head of Big Association

F. D. Fuller, Chief of the Feed Control Service, A. and M. College, has just returned from Washington, D. C., where he attended the 17th annual convention of the Association of Feed Control officials of the United States held there on October 29 and 30. Feed officials were present from 24 states, he reports, as well as from the Dominion of Canada. About 80 in all were on hand, including representatives from the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the American Feed Manufacturers Association.

Matters of great importance to feed officials and manufacturers were discussed and chemical standards and definitions were adopted for various by-product feeds. Reports of several committees indicated that a vast amount of investigational work had been accomplished during the past year. An important committee was appointed to study special-purpose mixed feeds with the end in view of recommending chemical standards for feeds which are advertised and sold for special purposes. This is all in line with advanced work which Mr. Fuller has already done here in Texas, as tentative chemical standards were effective in this state on July 1, 1925.

Holds Degrees.

Mr. Fuller was honored by election as President of the Association for the coming year. He is also an ex-officio member of the Executive Committee and a member of the Wheat Feed Committee. As a matter of interest in regard to the qualifications of Mr. Fuller, he is a graduate of the University of New Hampshire and has received the degree of Master of Science from Purdue University, same being given in 1912. He has had considerable experience in the chemistry and and inspection of feeding stuffs in the states of New Hampshire, New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana, and Texas, and in the U. S. Department of Agriculture at Washington, and he is the author and co-author of numerous publications relating to the inspection of feed. A Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, member of the Honorary Scientific Society of Sigma Ki, Kappa Sigma Fraternity, Association of Official Chemists of North America, and the Lions Club of Bryan, Texas. He has been Chief, Division of Feed Control Service, Agricultural Experiment Station, A. and M. College, for the past eight years.

MRS. PRAGER SERIOUSLY ILL AT STEPHENVILLE

Mrs. Fred Manley received a message this morning from her brother, Elmer Reed, who is in Stephenville visiting his mother, Mrs. H. H. Prager, who has been quite ill, says that Mrs. Prager was seriously sick, having developed Phlebitis of the leg, following the birth of the little daughter. Bryan and College friends will be sorry to hear of Mrs. Prager's illness and will hope for a speedy recovery.

WANTED:—Man or woman to sell Rawleigh Products in Bryan. Write the W. T. RAWLEIGH CO., Dept. X 58, Memphis, Tenn.

Miss LilyBessKyle Chosen Member of Baylor ChoralClub

It will be of interest to Bryan and College friends to know that Miss Lily Bess Kyle, daughter of Dean and Mrs. E. J. Kyle of College Station is one of the twenty-five girls, who has been chosen to make the annual concert tour with the Baylor College Choral Club for 1925-26. It is indeed a coveted honor to be chosen as a member of this club as it is thru the greatest care they are selected. These girls represent the very finest type of girls to be found in the college at Belton, not only in regard to accomplishment and ability but also from the standpoint of refinement and character. Miss Kyle having had no previous training in voice her selection over hundreds of other girls, who have had years of training, is tangible evidence of the worthiness of her selection. Bryan and College are proud of their sons and daughters and share in their success in whatever they undertake.

Farmers to Be Urged to Rotate Crops In 1926

M. L. Parker, chairman of the Agricultural committee, in his report this morning to the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, assembled in regular Tuesday morning session stated that his committee had held a conference with County Agent C. L. Beason in which they discussed the project of a demonstration farm or farms, going over the matter in detail. They had decided that the cost would be very expensive. They also took up the matter of getting farmers in various sections of the county to rotate crops, the committee and the county agent to cooperate with the work. It was finally decided that the county agent get in touch with the representative farmers and see what they wanted to do in the matter. Mr. Parker stated that the committee was still at work and would continue and make a final report as early as possible.

Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, chairman of the Entertainment committee, called attention to the fact that even though the stores will be closed on Thanksgiving Day, still the merchants should decorate their show windows and their cars. She expressed the wish that Bryan present a clean and attractive appearance on this day before our guests.

Those present were: Col. Ike Ashburn, Wilson Bradley, J. E. Covey, W. H. Cole, E. J. Fountain, Judge H. O. Ferguson, F. L. Henderson, J. M. Gordon, Jno. M. Lawrence, T. K. Lawrence, J. Bryan Miller, J. D. Martin, Oak McKenzie, M. L. Parker, Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, A. M. Waldrop, D. L. Wilson and M. E. Wallace.

Baptist Auxiliary Met Monday With Good Attendance

Circle No. 2 of the Woman's Auxiliary of the First Baptist church met at 3 p. m. on Monday with Mrs. J. B. Sanders on east 27th street with ten members present. This being the first meeting since the rearrangement of the membership roll, the time, following the devotional hour was taken up in the election of officers, and appointment of committees for the coming year.. Mrs. J. B. Sanders read the first chapter of James and gave helpful comments, and roll call was answered with Bible quotations. Mrs. A. L. Ward sang a beautiful solo, and several good talks were made by the women present. A social half hour "over the teacups", followed the business session. The newly elected officers are: Mrs. Albert Buchanan, chairman; Mrs. Jess Conlee, assistant chairman; Mrs. W. J. Walker, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. C. A. Buchanan, Bible teacher, Mrs. J. A. Myres, assistant; Mrs. J. W. Batts, chairman for Orphans' home; Mrs. W. R. Thomas, personal service chairman. Circle No. 2 will hold its home meetings with Mrs. J. B. Sanders during the month of November.

Circle No. 4 Meeting.

Circle No. 4 with fifteen members present, met with the chairman, Mrs. N. A. Stewart, at 3 p. m. on Monday. Officers for the year were elected as follows: Mrs. N. A. Stewart, chairman; Mrs. S. C. Williams, assistant chairman; Mrs. F. A. Bunting, secretary; Mrs. S. C. Jones, treasurer; Miss Nannie Berryman, Bible teacher, Mrs. T. R. Batte, chairman, Win One committee; Mrs. W. R. Sanders, personal service; Mrs. G. M. John, chairman Orphans' Home work; Mrs. W. S. Howell, enlistment; Mrs. C. S. Gainer, publicity.

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR SPENDS WEEK-END IN BRYAN

Mrs. S. A. Collom of Texarkana spent Saturday and Sunday in Bryan with her sister, Mrs. Walter Wipprecht, enroute to Dallas, where she as president of the State Medical Auxiliary of the State Medical Association of Texas will preside over the auxiliary. Following this meeting Mrs. Collom will go to Austin to enjoy the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mother of Mrs. W. F. Gibbs Dies At Madisonville

Mrs. Nancy Conn, widow of the late J. G. Conn, died this morning at her home on the old Conn home place, near Madisonville, according to a message received by W. F. Gibbs from his wife, who has been at the bedside of her mother for the past ten days. Mrs. Conn was of quite advanced age and has been in ill health as a result for some time.

The funeral services will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the home with burial following in the Oxford community cemetery where she will be laid to rest by the side of her husband. Conn and Sanford Gibbs of Austin will arrive on the afternoon train today and join their father, W. F. Gibbs, and brother W. K. Gibbs and wife, the entire party going to attend the funeral.

The Conns and Williams were old pioneer families of that section and are well known and respected over a wide area. Mrs. Conn is survived by her daughter, Miss Arsule Conn, who made her home with her mother, and Mrs. W. F. Gibbs of Bryan and one son, Prof. J. T. Conn of Austin; also one brother, James Williams of Pasadena, Texas.

The Gibbs store in Bryan is remaining closed today and tomorrow out of respect to the memory of Mrs. Conn.

Kings Highway

(Special to the Eagle)

KINGS HIGHWAY, Nov. 11.—Howdy, neighbor Wheelock, you can have the whole road, but be sure you start the tracks straight! Rain, rain and more rain—"norther"—then, oh, boy! Hog killing is the order of the day. There's been so much water of late the turkeys have begun to "quack! quack!"

Before our last report from our school reached the press, there were two spankings, consequently two better boys.

The Navasota river has been on a rampage. Water is higher than any time in the last two years. Bridge building has been suspended until the water recedes.

Plays and tableau are being rehearsed for the Thanksgiving program at the schools and churches.

Smetana

(Special to the Eagle).

SMETANA, Nov. 11.—Joe Havel is visiting relatives in Schulenberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kosarek of Bryan were vsiiting their parents Sunday.

William Merka and Guy Smith spent Sunday with their parents.

Mr. Fachorn has returned home from a visit to California.

Mrs. Julia Kalinec who has been very ill for the past few days is reported better.

Charlie Merka motored to Brye an Monday evening on business.

Boone Prairie

(Special to the Eagle).

BOONE PRAIRIE, Nov. 11.—My, we are having some rain and cold weather.

Wylie Carter spent the past week-end with her cousin, Myrtle Carter.

Henry Mier has returned to his home after a visit in Houston.

Mrs. Carrie Milner and daughter, Celia, spent the past Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Richard Fultz.

Misses Jennie Mae Carr and Pearle Wood spent Sunday with Edna and Ollie Mae Bray.

Roy Templeton and Pauline Fultz were quietly married at Franklin the past Saturday. They are not certain where they will make their home at present. Everyone hopes for them great success throughout their life. They will make their honey-moon trip to Houston.

Mr. Jet, or Grandpa Jet, a well-known citizen of the Boone Prairie Community, died at his home Friday night and was buried at the East Boone Cemetery Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. Everyone extends great sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Our school is getting along nicely under the management of Earl D. Cockran of Franklin, and Misses Clara Mae Daniels of Boone Prairie, Inez Brantner of Bremond, and Wilma Caldwell of Bald Prairie. We will have a fine school when cotton picking is over.

We had the opportunity of having our Bible class Sunday night. We had a fine crowd present and everyone seemed to take great inter in the class. We have our old leader back, of which everyone is proud.

The Boone Prairie community received another hail storm and wind storm Saturday morning. The hail was not so heavy, although it damaged the cotton that hasn't been gathered. Seems like everyone is having a hard time gathering their crops.

William Vaughn spent the past week-end with Lennis Elliott of Grant Prairie.

Elvin Cooper has been visiting his brother, Tilton Cooper of Grant Prairie the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reddin spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baker.

Eagle correspondents cover the entire county. All community news is recorded herein.

Steep Hollow

(Special to the Eagle).

STEELE'S STORE, Nov. 10.—The Steele's Store and Stone City community is related to the duck family, because it has certainly lived in water for the past three weeks. Traveling has been almost impossible. We haven't worried though.

The day school is progressing nicely and the night school is getting new members all the time. The night school begins promptly at 7:00 o'clock, and the scholars are always here on time, showing that they are realy anxious to enlarge their educational capacity. The teachers are interested in both schools, and are doing all in their power to make them a success.

Tony Perrone is leaving our community next week to live near Hearne; but we hope he will not forget us, and will make us a visit as often as possible.

Joe Degelia has returned from Dallas where he has been working and will remain at home through the winter.

MILLICAN NEWS

(Special to the Eagle).

MILLICAN, Nov. 11.—C. E. Jameson, who is a senior student at A. and M. College spent Saturday and Sunday with his homefolks.

Kirkland Edward spent Sunday at Dinkins, on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Dunlap.

Mrs. Alma Williams made a business visit to Bryan Saturday.

Miss Ewin a prominent teacher in our school spent the week-end with homefolks in Bryan.

Edge News

(Special to the Eagle).

EDGE, Nov. 10.—Everybody is rejoicing over the beautiful sun shinny weather.

Rev. J. J. Pipkin filled his monthly appointment in the Baptist church on Sunday and Sunday night.

A very good program was rendered at the B. Y. P. U. on Sunday night.

The young people of this community and surrounding communities enjoyed themselves at an entertainment at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George House last Saturday night.

Harvey Martin of Edge visited his sister, Mrs. George McDonald, at Macey Sunday.

W. C. Hill and family have returned home from an extended trip in the West where they were engaged in cotton picking for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. George Outlaw of Bryan visited relatives at Edge Sunday.

Lon George, who has been away from Edge for some time, has returned home and is attending school.

Miss Viola Holiday was the week-end visitor of Miss Mildred Closs.

Some of the men of this community who have been working on the road near Madisonville, crossed the river boats Friday on their way home. They reported high water everywher.

Miss Jettie Nash spent the week-end with Mrs. Jenie Corgie while Mrs. Corgi's husband was working in Midway.

Arthur Corgie returned home Friday to spend the week-end with his family.

Wheelock

(Special to the Eagle).

WHEELOCK, Nov. 11.—"Full many a gem of purest ray serene The dark unfathomed cares of Oceans bear". So we will find many noble characters through life if we will kindly look for them.

C. V. Box is visiting at Marlin, hoping to find relief from a severe attack of rheumatism.

Tony Barcelona from Byrar, accompanied by J. B. Dunn from the Dunn ranch were on cattle buying trips through this section the past week.

Presiding Elder L. B. Elrod, "one of the giants of Methodism" held the 4th quarterly conference for the Wheelock circuit last week and while conditions have been adverse to the churches financially, reports made fairly satisfactory in every way.

Rev. H. G. Hall, Methodist minister and Rev. J. L. Wallace, the Baptist minister, accompanied by Leonard Scott from Franklin were attendants of the conference in session here.

The good ladies of this community, followingthe morning services at the church on conference day served one of their well known sumptuous dinners, that not only brought comfort and satisfaction to the participants, but renewed and enlarged the Christian fellowship of us all.

On the morning of November 3rd, young Jesse Brock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Brock, died after an illness of over three months duration. He is survived by one sister, three brothers, father and mother and a host of other relatives. Visitors from a distance attending the funeral were: Aubry Brock, Port Arthur; Wesley Ryland and John and Sam Brock and families from Hearne.

Miss Tennie Ryland from Junction is visiting her parental home and incidentally seeing after her mother, Mrs. Dave Arnett, who has been ill for some time.

The sad intelligence of the passing of Prof. R. O. Allen, principal of Allen Academy, brought sorrow to many of his old friends of this community. Nearly two years of his young manhood were spent in the school room and homes of our people and the gentle and refining influences of his noble manhood still abides in the hearts and minds of those who knew him best and the tender and farreaching inspirations implanted for the higher and better manhood and womanhood that he so successfully instilled in the minds and consciences of our young people, finds full fruition in the fine character of the citizenship of many of his old students and friends who all rejoice of their privilege of knowing and loving him.

The many friends of W. L. Hedwick are rejoicing over the return of himself and family to their former home and neighborly activities in the prairie village. Some three years ago he was attacked with a severe case of wanderlust and wandered out to the borderland of the west and revelled in the Golden Sunshine and solitude in which that section of our old state excels, recently, however, he was overcome with memories of his former days and like the great law, Giver of All, by faith he preferred to return and endure the afflictions with his former neighbors and friends, rather than to dwell in the high places of the bourdless west. The hand of "welcome is extended".

The measure of love is kindness and consideration.—BILDAD.

MORE FROM WHEELOCK

This community has been visited with heavy rains the past week.

November 3rd the death angel silently stole into a happy home and took a loving ard indulgent son away with him into the far beyond. The one that answered this call was no other than Jesse, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Brock of Wheelock. Physicians and loved ones did all in their power to aid him in his long illness but there was a greater physician who prescribed rest forever more. He was laid to rest in the Wheelock cemetery Tuesday evening. Some think when death calls an aged man tottering toward the valley amid the evening shadows, that he should cheerfully lay down his burden and staff and willingly enter "the windowless palace of peace". But when he comes as in this instance to summon to that bourn whence no traveler returns, (a 16-year old boy) the call is unexpressably sad. We offer our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved.

Mrs. Raymond Wilson and little daughter of Fort Worth are visiting in the Tarver home.

Reagan Hicks, an A. and M. student motored over to Waco the last week and was accompanied back by Misses Acrata Hamilton of Franklin and Pauline Peeler of Wheelock, two Baylor students who spent the week-end with their parents.

Misses Lucile Newton has been on the sick list the past week.

Miss Lucy Summerville spent the week-end with Miss Lillian Tarver.

George and Charley Scasta were business visitors in Hearne last Wednesday.

Perry Duncan who has been working at Franklin was home Friday.

Orthel Grant of Franklin made his usual trip here Sunday.

Duncan Love who is going to school at Franklin spent the week end with his parents.

Frank Tarver was a business visitor in Franklin Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harve Spiller from Hearne were visiting in the Melton McNaive home Sunday.

Miss Aileen Dixon motored over to Hearne Sunday where she will spend several weeks with her sister.

There will be a program staged by the Wheelock Literary Society at the auditorium Friday night, November 20. Everyone is invited to attend.—BILDAD.

Millican ClubGirls Hold Good Meeting

(Special to the Eagle.)

MILLICAN, Nov. 10.—The Millican club girls had a regular meeting November 3. The house was called to order by Miss Abbie Sevier, home demonstration agent and the club was reorgarized. Reba Hughes was elected president; Georgia Earl Dunlap, vice-president; Robert Lee Hagin, secretary and Thelma Seeley, club reporter. We also planned for the new year. Robbie Lee Hagin told us of her trip to the Dallas Fair. This talk we enjoyed very much. We each hope to be winners next year. Those present were: Margaret Davis, Thelma Seeley, Georgia Earl Dunlap, Ruth Symns, Robbie Lee Hagin, Lizzie Langford, Lucile Symns, Mary Grace Bean, Reba Hughes, and one new member, Alma Lois Williams, was added to our club.

Annual Report of The Methodist Church At A.&M.

The Texas Annual Conference meets at the First Methodist church at Jacksonville on November 11. The opening sermon will be preached tonight on the "Brotherhood Anniversary". The conference includes 10 presiding elders' districts with 260 pastoral charges. It is predicted by some that unification will carry in this conference, though not by the necessary three-fourths' majority.

Rev. Jesse C. Thomson of College left on the noon train today for Jacksonville to attend conference. The stewards at Alexaner and at College, his pastorates, at the last quarterly conference, voted unanimously for the return of Rev. Thomson to his present place. The A. and M. Commission for the Methodist work at College had asked his return, also.

Rev. Thomson takes to Jacksonville with him his annual report as follows: Number of additions on profession of faith, 56; number of additions otherwise, 230; adults baptized, 42; infants baptized, 5; one missionary society with 18 members; six Epworth leagues with 310 members; two Sunday Schools (College and Alexander) with 406 members; Sunday Schools raised for all purposes $336.00; Missionary Society raised for all purposes, $201.00; Epworth Leagues raised for all purposes, $150.00; special missions $100; Orphans' Home $100; superannuate endowments and conference claims paid in full; total amount raised for all purposes, $3506. The church budgets, both at College and Alexander, were raised in full.

Steep Hollow Cemetery Meet On Next Sunday

The Steep Hollow Cemetery Association will meet on next Sunday, November 15th, at the church and cemetery grounds for a drive for funds for the new year. A big basket dinner will be served on the ground at noon, according to C. M. Risinger, president. November 11th will be the third anniversary of the Steep Hollow Cemetery Association which takes pride in pointing out the things the organization has accomplished in the way of beautifying the Silent City of the Dead. Everyone who has visited the burying ground has been well pleased with the wonders wrought with the membership fees.

A man has been employed who gives his full time to this work. He takes painstaking care with his work and has accomplished splendid results. The annual report of the secretary, Miss Laura Mims, will be read at the annual meeting of the board of directors on the 15th, at this meeting. I. M. Cook is business manager of the association and the directors are: I. M. Cook, C. M. Risinger, T. P. Hall, J. J. Vandiver, W. H. Buchanan, Mrs. I. M. Cook, Mrs. Ethel Edmunds, H. P. Dansby, E. U. Peters, Miss Laura Mims, Miss Lola Foster, Mrs. J. W. Wiley, J. E. Hensarling, J. D. Martin, and T. A. Hensarling, Sr.

BROWN AND HOLLOMON TALK AT LIONS MEET

(By S. C. Hoyle)

The program committee of the Lions Club again proved their ability to provide an entertaining program at their regular weekly luncheon. After the usual preliminaries, Lion President Erskine remarked that whenever Dr. Jno. W. Black or Rev. S. Moylan Bird visited the Lions Club that they were expected to lead the singing of "Sweet Adeline," and that since Dr. Black was the guest of the Club that this request would now be made. Dr. Black graciously responded and insisted that Lions Brown, Locke, Hensarling and Newton bring out all the "barbershops" in their masterly manner which had been so frequently displayed in their vocal efforts. After the singing he explained that he was present in the interest of the union meetings between the Rotarians and the Lions, saying that there was a national ruling regarding holding meetings on any other day than that officially agreed upon and gave a number of solutions to the problems to be voted upon by the Lions. A committee was appointed to look into the matter and report to the Lions. This committee was composed of Lions Searcy, Hensarling and Newton.

The meeting was turned over to the program committee, and Lion Searcy announced that a classification talk would be made next Tuesday by Lion J. E. Hensarling. He then turned the meeting over to Lion Hunt, who announced that the first number would be a classification talk by Sky Pilot Brown. Lion Brown said that he had been asked to talk on three subjects, naming fire insurance as one subject and fire escapes as the second subject. He explained that since he had prepared his talk he refused to change. He proceeded by saying that the preachers represent the agents, the members of the Lions Clubs the individuals to be insured and the things to be insured the word of God. He remarked that all people are religious and that all religions embraced an element of immortality and proceeded to give some interesting figures regarding the Bible, namely, that it is printed in over 500 languages and dialects and that the first Bible was printed about 385 years ago and that today 250,000,000 copies have been printed and distributed, outranking any publication in the world. The second in rank, he explained, is Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress, which is a story treating of Christian truths. He then spoke of the scope of the Bible in covering the fields of law, poetry, parables, stories, etc., remarking that all codes and laws of the leading nations are summed up in the ten commandments; that the Psalms were models of poetry and that Ruth was an interesting love story. He spoke of the Stephen Girard College which had millions spent in the building and millions in the endowment and said that it had a wall around it and that no preachers were permitted to enter these walls. Later a Bible course was installed and that certain parties tried to rule it out, but that the Supreme Court held that the Bible should be taught as a character builder and used as a moral force. He then proceeded to show that there is no conflict between the Bible and evolution nor between the Bible and true science, and emphasized the fact that the Bible was the foundation of Christian America, quoting President Coolidge as saying recently in one of his addresses that "what America needed is more Christian religion portraying the life of Christ".

Miss Helen Fain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Fain of College, gave a reading, "My Name Is Jack," which elicited enthusiastic applause. She responded to the encore by reading "Too Young To Know".

Rev. Roy Hollomon was introduced as the principal speaker of the day. He told of a man who passed three workmen engaged in the structure of a building. This man asked each workman the question, "What are you doing." One replied, "I am cutting stone;" another replied, "I am making five dollars a day," while the third answered "I am building a cathedral." He then explained that these three men wre typical of the three classes into which all humanity falls. The first class, representing the cutters of stone, he said were in the majority and have no higher ideal than to merely act as hewers of wood and drawers of water, having no higher conception than to live by the sweat of their brow, never lifting their eyes above the horizon of mechanical effort of some task which would bring the necessities of life, reaching no higher plane than the animal which follows the instincts of self-preservation in gathering food to sustain life. He touched on the man making five dollars a day, saying that he had advanced at least one step and found something in life more than cutting stone and had a goal. That this goal might not be most laudable, probably consisting of great learning, great wealth, great power, etc., but that it at least involved an intelligent use of the faculties and showed a marked advance over merely cutting stone. After this he dwelt at some length upon the man who was building a cathedral as the model man to emluate. He said that he was following plans drawn by some great architect and was putting his best effort into his work realizing that he was becoming a part of the cathedral and was building for posterity. He then dwelt upon the task for all in character building and made a wonderful application in the creation of real men.

The Lion President introduced Captain Geo. W. Griner as a new member.

Those present were as follows: Henry Locke, W. E. Neeley, Lamar Jones, J. Coulter Smith, T. A. Munson, L. L. Stephens, Sol Gerson, E. J. Hunt, Miss Helen Fain, R. L. Brown, M. M. Erskine, Dr. Jno. W. Black, C. A. Searcy, Rev. Roy S. Hollomon, E. L. Gibson, V. R. Smitham, J. M. Ferguson, J. Bryan Miller, Theo. H. Thomsen, R. E. Bosque, Edwin C. Aldredge, Geo. W. Griner, O. J. Parks, Willard Chambers, J. E. Hensarling, Pat Newton, R. V. Armstrong, F. D. Fuller, S. C. Hoyle, and Mrs. Roy Danforth, pianist.

AGGIES HAVE LOST SPIRIT OF OVER-CONFIDENCE AND ARE OUT TO DEFEAT RICE AND LONGHORNS

(Special to the Eagle)

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 7.—The opening day of practice after the Aggies met defeat at the hands of T. C. U. saw a very serious bunch of men don football trousers and jerseys and trot out on Kyle Field to listen to a few words which D. X. Bible had to say.

The hopes of the Aggies for a championship were not wrecked on the T. C. U. win, rather they were made more possible in that the spirit of over-confidence which has often caused a defeat of a strong team to be totally wiped out of the Farmers' minds. The sting of defeat has done something which words of a Coach could never do, and the Aggies are plugging in the same determined manner that they had before the first two conference games of the season.

Only Two Games Left.

The Frogs slipped up on A. and M., partially due to a let-down, and partially due to the condition of the playing field and loss of Bob Berry. But the Farmers have no alibis for the game. They realize that they were outplayed and that they must stage a come-back against Rice Institute next Saturday in order to hold their threatening position in the won and lost column.

Texas University and Rice Institute are the two boulders in the path to a pennant, and the Aggies are working valiantly to remove the Rice threat. There has never been a time that the Owls were easy to beat on their own field,and this year, A. and M. makes the trip to Houston. The fact that they play on foreign soil, however, is helped some by the intended presence of the cadet corps.

Colgin And Kishi Back.

By defeating Rice and even tying Texas, A. and M can come out on top in the race, but the Farmers will not be satisfied with a tie victory over either Rice or Texas. It is a whole hog or none for them, and with that sort of spirit they should be again the invincible team that they were two weeks ago.

Berry will return to the Aggie backfield this week, and much thought will have to be given to the chances of Little Happy Colgin and Taro Kishi being placed in the backfield. Six men are now rated as first string in the Aggie backfield, and it is a problem as to who will get first call.

Changes In Line.

There might be some changes in the Aggie forward wall following conference between Bible and Rothgeb, though the men now have a grim determination on their faces as they go through practice work, which bodes no good for opposing teams, and it is possible that no changes will be made.

With a bright sun the last two days drying up the practice field, the Farmers find it more easy to drive through their plays and to learn more and more of the intangible art of football.

SHORT STAPLE COTTON PENALIZED ON MARKET

Titus county farmers in common with other east Texas cotton growers are feeling the effect of too much short staple cotton as is evidenced by an article appearing in the Mt. Pleasant Daily Times, part of which reads as follows:

"We understand that some of the towns which have been paying a premium on Titus County cotton in order to get it away from Mt. Pleasant are getting more short staple stuff than they want and the price is now as low as is paid here".

The Review carries a daily feature under the captain "cotton". In getting material for the feature we come in direct contact with the cotton men, both buyers and producers. From this contact we learn that there is a distinct effort made to secure the better staple by all the buyers, some of them refusing to even bid on the short staple. The producer who knows or thinks he has good staple, goes direct to those buyers with his offerings.

It is nothing out of the ordinary to note variations in bids amounting to as much as 5c per pound. There is but one construction possible of accounting for this. There is a distinct recognition of values based on grades and staples. Henderson county produces much good staple cotton and there are buyers in Athens to purchase it. The prices paid for this class of cotton places Athens in the class of good cotton markets, and growers of poor or short staples are attracted here by these prices in the hope of profiting by them. Many of these meet with disappointment, and proceed to raise the howl "Discrimination".

We doubt if "other towns" have been paying "premiums on Titus county cotton in order to take it away from Mt. Pleasant." The explanation being rather, that good staple cotton can be had in the neighboring towns and the "premiums" offered for this, attract the short staple growers in Titus.—Athens Review.

The Eagle has always contended that the institution or individual who advises the farmer to grow half and half cotton is the farmers greatest enemy. And this talk about good staple cotton not bringing a premium over short staple is not to be countenanced. An early and discriminative selection of farm seeds is one of the most important moves on the preparation for next year's crop. Indifferent seed selection as to variety and germinating power is one of the costliest habits that any farmer can form. The practice of early and careful selection of seed will materially aid the soil in crop yields next year. It is up to Brazos county to use judgment in the selecting of the seed for their crop.

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

The Turkey Crop.

The State's Marketing Bulletin says, "A questionnaire sent out from this department to the Chambers of Commerce of the principal sections of the State producing turkeys for the market shows, when tabulated, that the production of turkeys this year is very much lower than last year's production. In many large producing areas the turkey crop will be not more than 50 per cent of the production last year." The Agricultural Situation, published by the United States Department of Agriculture, in speaking concerning the poultry and egg situation, says, "Frozen turkeys are particularly firm in expectation of a short crops." Pass the backbones, spare ribs, cracklin' bread, sweet milk, pot licker and turnip greens; I don't want any turkey, nohow!

Profit From Cows.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sample of Tabor were in Bryan last Saturday, delivering as usual 18 pounds of good country butter, a week's production, from three farm cows, not counting some three or four pounds for home consumption. Counting butter at 50 cents a pound, this is more than $40 a month from butter alone, from three cows. Of course, there is some expense attached to the keeping of cows, but if they are handled right, we are told that 80 per cent of the value of feed crops fed to cows may be returned to the soil through the fertilizer, or droppings. At any rate, no farm can get very far without one or more good milch cows, and all livestock, if properly managed, will help build up the soil, a matter that has too long been grievously neglected.

Club Work Reports.

All club members should get their reports ready to send in on or before December 1st. It matters not what your success has been this year, a report is due from you. The Extension Service will want to know about your success, or why you failed. Please get these reports off your hands, so we shall be ready for a great time next year. Brazos county must set a new pace, as she has done in the past, in club work. What do you say, boys and girls? All right, the goal is set. Let's go!

Staple Cotton Premium. 4

Victor H. Schoffelmayerg, agricultural editor of the Dallas News, has been quick to see the evil effects of encouraging increased cotton production per acre regardless of quality and length of staple, and is, therefore, planning the More-Cotton-on-Fewer-Acres Contest for 1926 so as to take care of those farmers who produce a better staple. Already much interest is being manifested in the change of the rules governing the contest for 1926. The Jacksonville Rotary Club, co-operating with the agricultural committee of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce, and the County Agent, are planning to distribute, at cost, 3,000 bushels of purebred staple cotton seed among several hundred progressive farmers of Cherokee county, business men, bankers and cotton buyers assuring the farmers that the staple cotton they produce will be taken care of. This is a real service to the farmers of that county, and the farmers will be quick to produce that product which will make for Jacksonville a better market town, if the price is equitable.

Value Fertilizer Proven.

Roy Robinson, manager of the Higgs-Robinson farm of the Brazos Bottom, has made an outstanding demonstration in the use of fertilizer this year, notwithstanding the drouth. It was accomplished by distributing, through an ordinary distributor, fertilizer from the poultry house, on a certain plot of land which produced twice as much cotton as adjoining land of the same quality and same cultivation. Mr. Robinson plans to enlarge his demonstration work next year, taking in sufficient acreage to enlist in the State contest. Keep your eye on Brazos county.

Three Take Up Poultry Work.

Miss Mary Locke of Tabor, Mrs. Will Henderson of Kurten and V. J. Boriskie of the Golden Rule Poultry Farm, Route 3, will undertake the work in accredited flocks in Brazos county, the work starting from November 1st. Since four may enlist in Brazos county, some other poultry raiser may be enrolled during the next few days.

Higara During Drouth.

H. P. Dansby, one of our leading farmer-stockmen of Brazos county, left at the First State Bank and Trust Company last week some very fine specimens of home-grown higara. Mr. Dansby stated that he sowed some 30 acres during the drouth in the summer, and that only about 20 acres had survived the drouth, or some up, but this acreage was now very promising, just nearing maturity, and would furnish the greater part of his feed if he could only get it harvested. The higara is very much like the darso, the openness of the heads seeming to be less susceptible of attack by the midge than milo and other grain sorghums with more compact heads. The returned questionnaires recently sent out to Brazos county farmers will, likely, furnish some interesting information relative to the various grain sorghums that have been tried out in Brazos county this year.

Value of Good Terraces.

V. B. Milberger, living on the J. N. Scasta farm near Wheelock, called to see County Agent C. L. Beason last week, being interested in terracing and budding pecans. The Scasta farm is near the George A. Adams farm, which was terraced last winter, and which has, evidently, served to convince other farmers in that neighborhood that terracing is essential in the preservation of the soil, or in laying the foundation for rebuilding worn-out soils. Joe Locke of Tabor built the terraces on the Adams farm, saying, when he had finished the job, "The terracing is worth $500 to this farm." This is true of most any farm where the terraces are properly built and properly kept up; but poorly built, or neglected terraces will not only fail to function, but will also bring the work into disfavor. Of course, terraces can not be built so they may not break during unusual rains, or cloud-bursts, but they can be made to check soil erosion and serve as a dependable foundation upon which we may build a more productive soil. Ask L. T. Wilson, W. E. Moore, Robert Davidson, Charlie Locke, Luther Holligan, Walter Armstrong, Dr. J. C. Davidson, J. L. Sample, C. A. Schram, and scores of others what they think about terracing.

Over-Production Danger.

Far seeing business men see disaster ahead, not only for themselves, but also for farmers as well, in the over-production of cotton next year. Already steps are being taken in many places to lend encouragement to a diversified farming program in an endeavor to avoid, or head-off, disaster which many think would be inevitable, if an over-production of cotton should follow this year's big crop.

Reports Given of Baptist Circles

Additional reports from First Baptist Auxiliary Circle meetings have been sent the Eagle today as follows:

Cirle No. 1 met with Mrs. H. O. Boatwright with seven members present. The following officers were chosen: Mrs. E. F. Parks, chairman; Mrs. D. C. Vick, vice chairman; Mrs. Egbert Jones, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. W.S. Higgs, Orphan Home work chairman; Mrs. Boatwright, Bible teacher.

Circle No. 3 met with Mrs. Geo. A. Adams with six members present. Officers for the year were chosen as follows: Mrs. E. H. P. Baine, chairman; Mrs. John A. Moore, vice chairman; Mrs. T. B. Higgs, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Paul Dansby, chairman orphan home work; Mrs. G. M. Brandon, Bible teacher.

Circle No. 6 met with Mrs. J. T. Maloney, with ten present. Officers for the year will be: Mrs. J. G. Minkert, chairman; Mrs. J. T. Maloney, vice chairman; Mrs. J. M. Ferguson, secretary; Mrs. Nannie Rohde, treasurer; Mrs. W. C. Ruchti, personal service chairman; Mrs. W. S. Johnson, Win One committee; Mrs. E. C. Elliott, Look-Out committee; Mrs. J. H. Nash, Orphan Home work; Mrs. P. S. Park, Bible leader; Mrs. Minnie Estill, assistant.

Circle No. 7 met with Mrs. J. W. Dyer. Ten members were present and two new members, Mrs. Joe Wallace and Mrs. Earl King. Mrs. W. A. Withers was chosen chairman; Mrs. J. W. Dyer, vice chairman; Mrs. H. H. Newton, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. A. W. Buchanan, personal service; Mrs. C. A. Harris, Mission Study; Mrs. R. S. Webb, Orphan Home work; Mrs. W. C. Fountain, Bible teacher.

LETTER ARRIVED AFTER TWENTY YEARS' TIME

(By Associated Press).

SAINT ETIENNE, France, Nov. 10.—Mlle. Francoise Belami is now wife of one of the village's prominent citizens, but she will not say "what might have been" had a letter from one of her numerous suitors, written September 24, 1905 been delivered on time. Mlle Belami then lived at Montbrison. The letter was posted at Saint Jean Soeymicux, ten miles away. The letter arrived just 20 years later.

What Different States Put Up In Canned Goods

If it's good, few people give much thought to the source of the food served at their daily meals. Our country is so rich in resources, so varied in climate, so well served by transportation system, that it's a commonplace to have the most distant states and territories contribute their special products to the dinner table.

The following list of the principal foods canned is a good index of what nature has equipped various state to produce:

Alabama — Oysters, shrimp, beans, okra.

Arkansas—Apples, beans, tomatoes.

California — Apricots, cherries, figs, peaches, pears, plums, berries, asparagus, chili peppers, peas, string beans, tomatoes, olives, sardines, tuna, and spinach.

Colorado — Tomatoes, string beans, pumpkin, kraut, cherries, and berries.

Florida—Shrimp, oysters, tomatoes, grapefruit.

Georgia — Shrimp, tomatoes, sweet potatoes, sweet peppers, apples, peaches, and syrup.

Kansas—Milk.

Louisiana—Syrup, shrimp, oysters.

Mississippi — Oysters, shrimp, okra.

Missouri—Tomatoes apples.

North Carolina—Tomatoes, apples, beans.

Tennessee—Corn, tomatoes, apples, beans, pumpkin, sweet potatoes, berries, peas.

Texas—Tomatos, beans, berries, figs.

Virginia — Tomatoes, apples, beans, sweet potatoes.

PRIZES GIVEN FOR IMPROVING NATURES WORK

One thousand dollars in cash prizes is being offered by Holland's Magazine for planting trees, beautifying public, semi-public and private grounds, and for essays by school children on the value of the value of trees.

The awards are offered as an inducement to promote interest in community beautification. There are no difficult rules to matter, no solicitations of subscriptions or advertising. The campaign is open to all civic, social, educational, and religious organizations, and to individuals. Environment has a great deal to do with good citizenship and the happiness of people in any given community. The results in the three-planting division will be judged by Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Tree Association; Percival S. Ridsdale editor of Nature's Magazine; and R. A. Gilliam, president of the Texas State Forestry Association; and in the community beautification division by J. B. Baker, president of the Southwestern Association of Nurserymen; Edward A. Teas, a prominent nurseryman of Houston, Texas, and Mrs. Florence C. Floore, treasurer, General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Municipal Notes

There will be a regular meeting of the City Commission on Friday night at which time bids will be received on the 400,000 gallon water tower for Bryan. A number of other things are also to be taken up.

City Manager J. Bryan Miller, will, on Friday night at the session of the City Commission, make his monthly report of expenditures as compared with the budget adopted for this year.

Specifications have gone out today on the new oil engine for the city power plant. The bids will be received on the 24th inst.

The city has been experiencing some trouble in keeping the dirt streets in shape as the workmen cannot get on them while the rains keep up so constantly. However, whenever and wherever possible, dragging and grading is being done. There have been only a few complaints from the bad condition of streets source. The street crew was the only one which, it had been planned, would work Armistice Day, but the rain of the morning presented their doing much.

LARGE NUMBER A.-M. FACULTY ON PROGRAM

The Texas A. and M. College faculty is largely represented on the program of the Texas State Teachers' Association convention in Dallas, November 26, 27 and 28. Dean Charles E. Friley is secretary of the association of Texas Colleges which will have a special meeting during the convention. H. H. House of the physical education department is president of the Physical Education Section of the association and has planned a program for that group. J. C. Buck of the agricultural faculty will make an address before the Vocational Agriculture Section. F. B. Clark of the department of economics will speak on the general program of the association.

Mrs. Maggie Barry of the extension department of the college is a member of the Executive committee of the association.

Many teachers of the College and of Bryan and that section of Texas will attend the Dallas meeting. Railroads have granted a rate of fare and one-fifth for the convention, which is expected to bring the attendance to more than 10,000.

Marion Church Delivered An Address A.-M.

Today, Armistice Day, was an official holiday at A. and M. College and a program was given this morning at 9:00 o'clock in Guion Hall, appropriate to the occasion, the principal feature of which was an address by S. Marion Church of Dallas, former president of the A. and M. Ex-Students' Association. President T. O. Walton presided over the meeting and introduced in a few brief but well-chosen words, Colonel Ike Ashburn, executive secretary of the Ex-Students, who in turn introduced Mr. Church.

President Walton made a splendid talk in which he said that he thought it just and proper to gather at the A. and M. College to celbrate Armistice Day and to inculcate into the minds and hearts of the students of today, those principles and ideals for which many of the institution's former students had laid down their lives.

A. and M. Third Baseman.

Colonel Ashburn said that he knew that there could be no one who was more loyal to the College or its students than S. Marion Church and that Mr. Church had never refused to give aid or cooperation whenever he had been called upon. He went into the history of the College and reviewed the days when Mr. Church was third-baseman on the Aggie ball team and played an important part in a number of A. and M. victories.

"I am not here to sentimentalize in poetic language about the poppies that bloom on Flander's Field, but rather to see in the poppies a positive gain—a promise of hope," said Mr. Church, in opening his address. "Springing in their fragile purity from that blood-soaked battlefield, those brilliant flowers in their gory bed, but in their golden tints spread out like the field of the cloth of gold—as harbingers of a rebirth, a regeneration—as messengers of immortality.

Lesson From Struggle.

"God has given in recurrent seasons verdure of spring following desolation of winter from which we can take our faltering faith a visible bulwark. Out of chaos and destruction does spring forth a fuller life. Those poppies must be to us a symbol of fruitfulness. We must gain from Armistice Day not simply cessation of shot and shell but an impetus to our own re-birth."

In closing his address, Mr. Church said that it was not the tragedy in the lives lost in the world war, but rather the tragedy that lies in not seeking to perpetuate and making lasting the principles and ideals for which these lives were given. He said there were now in America some 400 newspapers and magazines having for their sole purpose the destruction of this government and that millions of dollars were being spent in propaganda designed to overthrow lawful authority. Some of this, he said, was so veiled and hidden that we could scarce recognize it, but that it would work its insidious way into our minds and hearts until it became a part of us.

OF INTEREST IN BRYAN.

The marriage of Miss Anne Lila Wickes and Clifford Mitchell, both of Bryan, is to be solemnized at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. V. G. Murrell, in Audubon Place. The marriage is of great interest to a host of friends here, where the bride has often visited. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Wickes of Bryan, and had the honor of representing the Agricultural and Mechanical College as duchess last week at the Waco Cotton Palace, with Miss Anita Stewart as her maid of honor. She is a graduate of Sullins College, and Mr. Mitchell is a graduate of A. and M. The wedding is to be a quiet event, with only a few friends and relatives present.—Houston Chronicle.

Million Dollars Been Given By Texas Baptists

(Special to the Eagle).

DALLAS, Nov. 11.—Gifts of the Baptist churches of Texas to the general denominational program for the last twelve months amount to $988,033.83, according to the report whic hhas just been prepared by George J. Mason, treasurer of the executive board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. This amount is $57,983,31 less than was given during the preceding twelve months when a total of $1,046,017.14 was contributed.

Gifts to the general work each month exceeded the gifts during the same month of the preceding year with the exception of January and May when the amounts were less. A larger number of churches are contributing to the general work of the church than at any other time in the history of the denomination. During October 620 churches made remittances to the state Baptist headquarters office in Dallas and thirty of these churches had not made offerings during the preceding ten months. While the number which have given to the general work of the denomination since January is 1,805 gifts have been received in the headquarters office for the general work during the last 12 months from 2,614 churches. There are 3,087 Baptist churches in Texas cooperating with the state convention and only 473 of these have not made offerings to the general work in the last twelve months.

In November, 1924 the gifts to the general denominational program of the Baptists was $421,113.63 as compared to the gifts of $368,597.21 during November of the preceding year. During the first four days of this month more than $35,000 has been received from the churches in the state and reports have come from other churches which promise to swell the gifts to many thousands. Among these offerings are included $5,000 from the First Baptist Church of Dallas; $3,500 from the First Baptist church of Wichita Falls and other large offerings. A check has been received from J. M. Barron of Plano for $500 as his personal offering through the First Baptist Church of Plano. J. E. Blankenship sent a special offering of $500 as his part of the offering from the First Baptist Church of Plano. Other large gifts are coming in rapidly.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO.

(Taken from the files of the Bryan Daily Eagle, November 11, 1900, twenty-five years ago):

State Interest.

NAVASOTA, Nov. 11.—Matters are growing worse instead of better at Anderson. Friends of both the Scotts and McDonalds have come from other counties in the hope of making an amicable settlement between the two factions, and if possible to pacify them. These friends are trying to persuade both sides to leave town.

The situation is serious and unless something happens to place the parties mostly interested far apart there will be bloodshed. While their friends here are doing everything possible to bring about a settlement it is realized that should another outbreak occur they, too, will take a hand and help their side.

A shot was fired from the jail yesterday morning (where Sheriff Scott and party are stationed) at a pedestrian on the streets. This shot was replied to by several shots from the courthouse, doing no damage. A few minutes later another shot rang out from the jail, which was again replied to from the courthouse. No one was hurt by any of the firing.

Reports from Anderson are conflicting and the true status of affairs are not known." The citizens of the town are doing all they can to keep the facts from the outside world, believing they would injure their town.

Local News Notes

Guy M. Bryan went to Houston yesterday.

Frank Webb fell from a galloping horse upon his head yesterday, and was unconscious for a time but fortunately sustained no serious injury.

W. D. Byars of Reliance is making preparations to move West. He expects to leave next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Watkins left for New Orleans yesterday.

Col. A. Hill was here from Wellborn yesterday.

W. S. McClung gave the Eagle a call while in town yesterday.

Horace Farguhar of Wellborn gave the Eagle a call while in town yesterday.

Mrs. Gilmer Hall left today for Houston to join her husband there. They will make their future home in Houston.

"Proper Food and Exercise," by ARTHUR A. McGOVERN Former physical director, Cornell Medical College

Causes for headaches lie below the head

TO CURE HEADACHE GET AT THE CAUSE

THE most frequent inquiries received in connection with these articles are from people who want to know if headaches can be cured by correct diet and exercise. Women frequently suffer from headaches when their general health seems to be perfectly good.

In attempting the cure of headaches, it is well to remember that a headache is a symptom rather than an affliction. It nearly always is the sign of organized irregularity, and its causes so various that it is impossible to suggest one method of treatment that could be used with equal success in every case. In many instances the cause of headaches is a serious organic condition that should be treated by a physician.

High or low blood pressure may be responsible for pains in the head and this condition may be allied with the heart, arteries, or kidneys. Sinus trouble or any defects of the eyes, ears, nose or throat also call for the immediate attention of the family physician. In cases where a headache is a sign of some serious condition, it generally appears with several other symptoms, but most of us occasionally have headaches that are caused directly by some minor disregard of the rules of health.

Many head pains are caused by congestion. This means that some habit, slight error in living has interfered with the normal circulation of the blood. The cause may be incorrect posture, indigestion, constipation, breathing impure air, sleeping in the wrong position, or any number of apparently inconsequential things. Sitting or standing in a position which allows the abdomen to sag, the shoulders to be bent and the head to drop forward impedes the circulation and results in unequal distribution of the blood.

Headaches caused by nervousness and worry are difficult to cure, generally because one is in a state of mind that makes a serious disease out of what is really only a very mild complaint. Normal, healthy persons do not worry very much even if circumstances have placed them in a serious predicament. People in good health think things over and come to a decision, after which they act on the decision. A person not physically fit is apt to see five or six courses of action present themselves in a crisis. Unable to choose between them, to forget what is unpleasant to do, and to do what must be done, he worries until a nervous headache is the result. In such cases, instead of trying to deal directly with the nervous state it is best to first tone up the body. People who have headaches caused by worry generally have dizzy sensations and slight vertigo caused by blood becoming so thick in the head that it affects the equilibrium. Exercise immediately improves this condition by improving the circulation and when the health begins to improve as a result of regular exercise, the habit of worrying diminishes.

Diet for Average Person

BREAKFAST: Fruit; bran or graham muffins; cocoa or a coffee substitute. Two glasses of water between breakfast and lunch.

LUNCHEON: Some soup; vegetable salad; dark bread; glass of milk; alternating with boiled or poached eggs. Two glasses of water between lunch and dinner.

DINNER: Lean meat, fish or chicken; a green vegetable; a baked potato; be sure to eat the skin; and for dessert fresh fruit in season; nuts or crackers and cheese. Weak tea, cocoa or chocolate.
